

QHotels Hellidon Lakes Golf & Spa Hotel Awarded Bronze for Going Green

QHotels Hellidon Lakes Golf & Spa Hotel is celebrating after achieving bronze accreditation within the Green Tourism Business Scheme (GTBS).

GTBS, the leading green tourism certification scheme in the UK, assesses hotels against a rigorous set of criteria that includes energy and water efficiency, waste management, environmental impact, biodiversity and innovation.

In a period of just three months, the Northamptonshire based hotel was awarded 60% - resulting in a bronze grade, one of 12 properties within the group to achieve this level.

Andrea Nicholas, Manager of the Green Tourism Business Scheme comments: "It was evident that Hellidon Lakes Golf & Spa Hotel was extremely committed and enthusiastic, not just in gaining an award, but aiming ultimately for a gold standard. Guests should feel assured that by choosing QHotels they are helping to support a genuinely environmentally focused hotel chain".

Sacha Cauwels, General Manager of Hellidon Lakes Golf & Spa Hotel commented: "We are delighted to have been awarded such an excellent environmental award, which demonstrates we are a clear green choice for our business and leisure guests. The accreditation reflects our commitment to corporate social responsibility and is a major milestone in our environmental journey".

Over the next year QHotels will be working towards other CSR developments including the selection of a company nominated charity for 2010 and a group wide carbon offsetting scheme.
